

British Academy of Fencing Residential Course

Monday 23rd July to Saturday 28th July 2018

The Course

The British Academy of Fencing's residential course is open to all fencing coaches irrespective of whether they are members of the BAF.

The course is designed for fencing coaches who wish to improve or enhance their practical skills, increase their technical/tactical knowledge or to simply meet other coaches and share ideas and experiences. The course is also ideal for those wishing to prepare and take BAF examinations. Optional examinations are held on the Saturday 28th July for those who wish to take BAF coaching awards.

There will be nightly optional specialist training events which will look at the wider aspects of coaching and the sport of fencing.

The sports hall at the venue is available for use by course members until late in the evening for those who desire.

The highly experienced course tutors for this course will be Profs. Peter Northam, Andrew Vincent, Peter Cormack, who will be assisted by other BAF coach educators depending upon numbers attending the course.

There is also a non-residential option if you do not wish to stay at Denstone College, for further information on this please contact the course officer.

Whilst the course might be considered to be intense there is also a focus on learning should be fun and enjoyable.

The Venue

Denstone College, Denstone, Uttoxeter, Staffordshire, ST14 5HN

Denstone College is set in heart of the UK, in the Staffordshire country side. Once at the college you will not need to travel anywhere as all training and dining is on site which is included in the course fee. There is ample free car parking at the college if required.

Within easy access to the college is a local pub and shops if needed. A short car journey away is the local town of Uttoxeter where there are a range of shops including a Tesco, where if necessary you can purchase any forgotten items.

The College is within one hour's drive of three major airports: Manchester, East Midland and Birmingham, and the nearest mainline stations are Stafford, Derby, Stoke on Trent and a branch line at Uttoxeter.
